Navigable Channel Is Favored for Rondout

A preponderance of testimony at a hearing Thursday in the City Hall on proposed federal improvement of the Rondout Harbor favored maintenance of a navigable channel from the Hudson River to Eddyville.

The hearing in the city court room conducted by Col. Harvey C. Jones, assistant New York District engineer of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, revealed plans for "a modern marine vacation center" in the Ulster County area.

Recently announced federal plans for the harbor development listed an improved channel to a point west of Island Dock. Government officials, industrialists and others offering testimony yesterday afternoon, asked that a section of the channel already improved by private interests, be added to the federal project and the full length of the channel be improved and maintained.

Testimony was given by federal, state and local officials, civic groups, spokesmen for industry and banking, trade associations, businessmen, trade associations, and the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce.

Congressman J. Ernest Wharton, who supported the project in Washington, in a statement forwarded in support of development and maintenance of the full channel, said that effect of the project "will be felt throughout the 28th Congressional District," which he serves.

Other officials offering testimony in support of full development and maintenance included Mayor John J. Schwenk, Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, Jesse McHugh, chairman of the Board of Supervisors; Alexander Banyo, Town of Ulster supervisor; and Roger Mabie, supervisor, Town of Esopus.

Saugerties Attorney Ernest E. Schirmer, testified that his clients, Albert Hobush, of Mt. Marion, and Arthur Isabella, of Saugerties have purchased a tract in the Ulster County area for pleasure craft operations, and favored a full channel project.

Isabella, contacted after the hearing, said the planned marine center will have a picnic grove with outdoor fireplaces, a 100 by 300-foot swimming pool, a 30 by 80-foot restaurant, a machine shop and docking facility capable of handling up to 50 boats, including large pleasure craft. He said he and his partner also plan a motel for the site. Some 79 acres will be involved.

Isabella said he felt that the project should be well received by metropolitan New York boating enthusiasts, who use the full channel.

Fate of Council in Balance

Pope Improves, Still Concern Over Health

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII continued to show progressive improvement today and did a bit of work before beginning a nine-day spiritual retreat, Vatican officials said.

The officials said the condition of the 81-year-old Roman Catholic ruler was satisfactory and that he clearly was showing a steady gain of energy.

Health Alternates

But the officials cautiously avoided speaking of a complete recovery. It was clear that there still was concern that he might suffer a relapse again.

His illness—anemia and a stomach disorder believed to be ulcer or cancer with hemorrhaging—has been marked by alternating periods of strength and weakness.

A Vatican official said Archbishop Angelo Dell'Acqua, Vaticanic substitute secretary of state, was with the Pope briefly this morning.

It was understood that the archbishop visited the pontiff on a current business matter.

The Pope's health is causing concern for the future of the Vatican Ecumenical Council which he regards as the climactic event of his reign.

Worried clerical circles said that if the Pope remains in poor health, there is little chance the council will resume on schedule Sept. 8. Should he die, the great assembly of bishops he launched last fall would be suspended automatically until a successor decided whether to reconvene it or to let it lapse.

Rest May Help

The ailing pontiff began a nine-day spiritual retreat, or novena, today in preparation for Pentecost Sunday June 2. Physicians hoped the period of rest would help the Pope regain his strength.

Dr. Piero Mazzoni, the Pope's regular Rome physician, kept vigil for the third night inside the apostolic palace as the spiritual ruler rallied slowly from his latest setback.

The Pope reportedly has been getting abundant rest since Tues-

JOHN R. CRESPIANO
Kingsport Officer
Is Secretary of State Conference

A Kingsport police officer is the new recording secretary of the Police Conference of New York.

Patrolman John R. Crespino, who holds other offices in police organizations, and a 1960 citation from Kingsport Kiwanis Club, was elected to the state office Thursday.

Election was held at Montello where the Police Conference convened for its annual session.

Other officers elected were Albert Sgaglione, a New York Port Authority officer, president for his third term; Philip F. Arcuri, Utica, vice president; William Miranda, New Rochelle, treasurer.

Represents 55,000 Men

The conference, which represents 55,000 policemen in the state, convened for five days.

Crespino, a local patrolman since March 1, 1954, is president of the Mid-Hudson Valley Police Conference, and president of the Kingsport Patrolmen's Association.

He won the Kiwanis citation for saving the life of a man who threatened to jump from a roof in the downtown area. Crespino wrestled with him after coaxing him into a friendly talk and held him until help arrived.

A Marine Corps veteran with service from October 31, 1945 to October 1948, Patrolman Crespino was in Japan, China and Guam. Recalled during the Korean conflict, he was an instructor at Camp Lejeune, N.C. for a year.

Hails New Rule For Birmingham; Big Step: Negro

By DON MCKEE

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Progressive leadership in this sprawling steel city's racial troubles has been pledged by a new government which also must grapple with serious economic problems.

Symbols of New Era

Major Albert Boutwell and nine councilmen, confirmed Thursday as the legal government by the Alabama Supreme Court, were hailed by a Negro leader as symbols of a new era.

"The Negro people look to the Boutwell administration for direct progress in the area of race relation," said the Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth a key figure in a lengthy desegregation drive which landed about 2,400 Negroes in jail for demonstrations.

"Justice and progress have triumphed," said Shuttlesworth.

"Birmingham's image has already improved."

Boutwell and the council took over the government when the

Kingsport Is Focal Point In Postal Speed-Up Plan

Kingsport is one of 554 cities designated as "sectional centers"—focal points in the Post Office Department's revolutionary ZIP-Code mail system to be unveiled July 1. Postmaster Newkirk was advised today by Postmaster General J. Edward Day.

"Kingsport was chosen as a sectional center in the National ZIP-Code program because it serves as a main focal point of air, highway and rail transportation in this immediate vicinity," Postmaster Newkirk said.

The sectional centers designated nationally will play a key role in the National ZIP-Code scheme—a plan by which five-digit codes will speed mail deliveries, in some cases by as much as 24 hours.

"On July 1," Postmaster Newkirk said, "Kingston will be assigned a three-digit number. This sectional center number, coupled with local zone numbers or numbers to be assigned post offices in this vicinity, will constitute the ZIP-Code for the various delivery units in this sectional center."

The ZIP-Code will enable a large mailer to pre-sort mail—through the use of electronic data processing equipment, right down to this city from anywhere in the country.

"By glancing at the first three digits of our ZIP-Code, postal employees will be able to immediately determine that mail is destined for the Kingston sectional center. When it arrives here, by glancing at the last two digits, our sectional center people will know exactly what town,

12 More State Agencies Get Permission to Do More Hiring

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Twelve more state departments and agencies had permission today from Gov. Rockefeller's budget director to resume hiring under special employee-reduction programs.

Budget Director T. Norman Hurd approved the additional 12 vacancy-control programs Thursday, raising to 30 the number of state agencies authorized to proceed with hiring.

Estimated savings were slightly under one per cent of total payroll.

Under the vacancy-control programs, the agencies pledge that only essential jobs will be filled as vacancies occur in the rest of the fiscal year ending March 31.

The programs were submitted in compliance with Rockefeller's directive that vacancies in state posts be filled only if essential.

Hurd said that the 30 agencies formed "the bulk of the state operation."

Approval by the Budget Division of the additional 12 programs lifted the total of estimated savings to $5.7 million out of total payroll appropriations of $605

Farmers Worried By Frost

Upstate Areas Get Sub-Zero Readings

A cold air mass from Canada overnight knifed deep into New York State and the Hudson Valley plunging temperatures to sub-freezing levels. Lows of 24 degrees were reported in some pockets in Ulster County, at New Paltz and Woodstock.

The extent of damage to fruit and vegetable farms in the county could not immediately be determined. However, some reports said there was damage to strawberry and tomato plants in many areas.

Use Smudge Pots

Many fruit farmers in the Highland-Clintondale-New Paltz area employed the use of smudge pots, wind machines and low flying planes to stir up the air and prevent frost from settling on the plants and blossoms.

Several fruit orchard operators contacted early today reported that damage could not be evaluated for a couple of days.

Other low temperatures recorded in the county were 25 at Marbletown; 25 at the Blue Mountain Reservoir in the northwestern section of Saugerties; 31 at the Gatehouse of Ashokan Reservoir.

The overnight low on The Freeman thermometer at Rondout was 32.

Record for Date Here

Kingsport City Engineer's Office reported a low overnight reading of 34, a record low for this date. The previous low was 36 in 1935. The record city low for May was 32 set on May 10, 1947.

William Wixson at Woodstock reported a heavy frost in that area and a low reading of 24. Many flowers were destroyed by the frost, he reported.

The Albany Weather Bureau forecast clear cool weather for tonight with a risk of frost in scattered low areas. The outlook for Saturday was a warming trend with temperatures reaching in the low 80's on Sunday.

The Associated Press reported that sub-freezing weather cast gloom on many Upstate farms today, despite widespread efforts to fight frost with helicopters, smoke and baskets.

Most of the Upstate area wore a white coat this morning, as temperatures dipped as low as 21 and broke records for the date, with June only a week away. Readings below 30 were common in the Hudson and Mohawk Valleys and across the Southern Tier, from the Binghamton area to the MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Miami Beach has been named the site of the American Legion's Sept. 6-12 national convention, shifted from New Orleans because of racial problems.

National Commander James Powers made the announcement Thursday. Powers said not enough integrated lodgings could be found in New Orleans.

Measures affecting downtown urban renewal were approved Thursday night at a recessed meeting of the Common Council which also legislated to apply for reservation of a federal sum of $25,250 to be used for a preliminary phase of a low-rent housing project.

Action was deferred on a street-repair program calling for an expenditure of $179,124, but it was indicated that the program will be considered at the June 4 meeting.

Alderman Frank A. Adams (D) Fifth Ward, opposed the measure dealing with the $25,250 for housing and William G. Davis (D-L) 13th Ward abstained from voting.

Complain of Speeding

Violations of the city's speed limit was discussed, with reports by Francis R. Koenig (D) Ninth Ward, and Joseph Tomaszewski (D) Sixth Ward, of speeding in their wards.

Kosogin asked that Police Chief Robert F. Murphy be asked by letter to have Andrew and West O'Reilly streets patrolled just before and after school hours at the high school and during the lunch period, because pupils were using the streets as drag strips.

Donald M. Hastings (D) Third Ward, held that the police department needed more men to make the speed law fully effective.

Aim to Do Best

Chief Murphy said today, however, that his department was doing its best to crack down on speeders, "but we can't be at all places at all times." Complaints come from many sections of the city and patrolmen stop speeders wherever they are observed, he said.

At the same time, the document said the group remained concerned about the continued presence of Soviet forces in Cuba and recent threats to peace in

Summer School Program Slated

Kingston Board of Education has approved a program of summer instruction for elementary pupils during July and part of August 1963, depending upon the interest of parents and the number of boys and girls who may register for the program. The State Education Department has also given its approval of the program.

Elementary classes would meet at George Washington School for 2½ hours daily (9:15 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.) beginning July 1 and ending August 2. Registration fee if possible, should accompany application.

Classes will be formed in groups of 20 per class for as many classes as there may be interest. These classes would be grouped by age and grade. The program would consist of instruction in reading, spelling, a library period, arithmetic and science. However, the 2½ hour instructional period can be made flexible depending upon the needs and interests of the students. Parents are assured that certified teachers will handle the instruction.

It will be the parents responsibility to provide transportation where needed.

Plans call for the U.S. to launch a dozen or so "flying laboratories" called Surveyors.

One nice thing about putting your money into a home is it won't need new tires before you get it paid for.

Only 60 Accept Pa. School Merger

HARRISBURG (AP)—The merger question was rejected in nearly two-thirds of the school districts voting on the issue.

Of 164 districts voting whether to merge with neighbors, 103 rejected the idea, 60 accepted and results in one district were not available in reports to the Bureau of School Reorganization in the state Department of Public Instruction.

Nevertheless, Bureau Director Herbert Bryan said today he found encouragement in the fact that in more than half of the proposed school systems involved there was at least partial approval.

The 1964 districts were voting to form 38 districts. There was complete approval in 14 of the proposed districts and partial approval in six others.

In the other 18 units, the school districts involved rejected the question outright.

But the approval in the 60 will mean 42 fewer districts when the 1963-64 school year begins.

The votes were spread over 20 counties. More than half of the 103 that rejected mergers were in three counties: Butler, Potter and Schuylkill.

In Butler, 25 out of 28 districts voted down mergers. One report was not available. The other two voted favorably, but since they were in proposed separate units, their favorable vote was meaningless.

Nineteen out of 29 Potter County districts rejected mergers and 10 out of 13 Schuylkill County districts voted the question down.

Board Adopts Budget

NEW YORK (AP)—The Board of Estimate Thursday unanimously adopted a city budget of $3,083,228,272. It was a record budget but still $10,233,310 less than originally requested by Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

The board's budget, however, was $345,000 higher than the one approved Tuesday night by the City Council.

The final budget needs approval by the mayor.

AT SCHOOL MEETING—Discussing new learning approach at a special meeting sponsored by the Kingston City Schools Consolidated Wednesday are Dr. Earl F. Soper, superintendent of schools; Mrs. Constance Ottesen, school psychologist; Mrs. Elizabeth Freidus, guest speaker and Mrs. Frieda L. Dingee, principal of School 7. (Freeman photo)

Guest Speaker Outlines New School Approach

The message of Mrs. Elizabeth Freidus, educational consultant, at a meeting sponsored by the Kingston City Schools Consolidated for teachers Wednesday afternoon and parents, doctors and interested public in the evening was enthusiastically received.

Mrs. Freidus said it was very difficult to name or label the child as a brain-injured child for with what instruments are available it is impossible to ascertain if it is an injury. Usually these children are intelligent but have problems in learning and their reactions are like those of neurologically impaired children.

These special problems may be attributed to some break in the development of the child in relation to himself and space occurring in his very early development. Mrs. Freidus pointed out that all learning to be consummated must pass through six cycles: child must have all information tools such as seeing, hearing, feeling; he must be able to look and listen when he wants to and be able to stay with it; the information must be understood and integrated; the appropriate response must be organized; the response must be produced with the ability to stay with the plan of response; he must be able to check what comes in from his senses and goes out through his motor response.

MUST DETERMINE AREA

It must be determined in which of the six areas there has been a break in the development and then educational methods applied to insure learning.

Mrs. Freidus pointed out some of the simple tests that were used to find these children. She emphasized that these children need rules to guide them. In some ways these individuals are competent and bright, and in other areas they have a "terrible time." They do well in some academic subjects, and abominably in others, she said.

Classes for these children must be small. This additional cost is more than compensated in terms of later cost to society in providing for institutional care or the cost for care if they get in conflict with the law.

CLASSES ARE NUMEROUS

In response to a question, Mrs. Freidus said that special classes were springing up all over the country faster than record could be kept of them to assist these children in their academic life. In New York State alone, she said, there are over 80 special programs already established, and the New York Association for Brain-Injured Children has recently given a grant to finance a survey in one section of the state to study the problem.

At the conclusion of the meeting, Dr. Soper said that a survey of the children in Kingston Consolidated School Districts would start shortly under the direction of Dr. Ralph Colvin, of the Astor Home for Children in Rhinebeck, to determine in the school district the number of learning problems in kindergarten through Grade 4 which are related to the child's inability to organize his behavior and his visual field.

CRASH IS FATAL

HUDSON, N.Y. (AP) — Miss Nancy L. Bower, 19, of Hudson, was injured fatally early today when her automobile struck a utility pole beside a county road two miles south of here. She was alone in the car, state police said.

The 34-year-old Baltimore-born Negro—the first of his race to be tried for his life as a cold war spy—remained under $100,000 bail after his first trial ended in a hung jury Thursday.

The only Negro on the jury, Edward L. Watkins, 35, said he was the lone holdout, with the other 11 jurors voting for conviction. He said race had nothing to do with it and that he would have voted guilty on the conspiracy count in the indictment, which carried a possible penalty of life imprisonment, if the others had voted acquittal on the espionage count, which carried a possible death sentence.

"I've never been on a jury before," said Watkins, "and here they were trying to get this man electrocuted. Well, I could see life imprisonment, but not electrocution."

Arrest Waitress In Man's Death

UTICA, N.Y. (AP)—A waitress was arrested today on a first-degree murder charge in the shooting death of a man she said was causing trouble in a downtown lunchroom last night.

Police charged that Miss Janice Butler, 20, who worked at Carter's Bar-B-Que, fatally wounded R.T. Barnes, 36, a Negro, as is Miss Butler.

Police said Miss Butler told them she was sketching a sign for a nearby church when Barnes entered the lunchroom.

She told police that Barnes had caused trouble in the establishment on previous occasions and that he became loud and abusive last night.

Miss Butler went to the kitchen and got a .22-caliber rifle, then returned to the counter and shot Barnes, police said.

The coroner's office said the bullet apparently passed through Barnes' right nostril and lodged in his head.

Miss Butler lived in a rear room at the lunchroom.

Police said Barnes had a police record, including a conviction for second-degree rape.

2 CREWMEN INJURED AS FIVE CARS DERAIL

WARREN, Pa. (AP)—Two crewmen were injured Thursday in the derailment of five cars of a 13-car New York Central freight train some three miles north of Warren.

Conductor H. A. Smith of Dunkirk, N.Y., and brakeman Thomas Caffrey of Buffalo, N.Y., were admitted to Warren General Hospital. Smith suffered a broken arm and ribs and Caffrey a broken shoulder and bruises.

The train was traveling from Titusville, Pa., to Dunkirk. Cause of the derailment wasn't determined.

DRINKING DRIVERS

In an endeavor to curb drinking drivers under the age of 21 years, New York State now has a bill which provides a new standard of .05 per cent weight of alcohol in the bloodstream to constitute prima facie evidence of driving "while the ability to drive is impaired."

Under the bill, a driver under 21, if convicted, would be guilty of a traffic infraction and his driver's license would be suspended for 60 days for the first violation. The bill is the first of its kind in the nation.

The measure is based upon data showing that a percentage of alcohol in the blood will produce greater impairment of the driving skill of youths than of older persons. The latter are subject to 10 per cent of alcohol.

Another statute makes .15 per cent of alcohol in the blood prima facie evidence of drunken driving.

The menace of drinking drivers demands strict laws and rigid enforcement.

Some downtown areas have the traffic so well regulated that you can drive almost as fast as you can walk.

VICTORY FOR HUMAN SPIRIT

We were all up there with Gordon Cooper, through the dark hours and the light. We should have been.

Some say we should not be exploring the unknowns of space while so many of the known things of earth are in disarray.

By this reasoning, Christopher Columbus should not have sailed in quest of a western passage to the Indies so long as peasants in Spain and Italy were hungry and ill-clad.

But even as it is troubled with its failures in zones of life already known, the human spirit must aspire, must search ahead, must soar. President Kennedy wisely described Gordon Cooper's great space flight as a victory for the human spirit.

We must all marvel at the precision which enables our space engineers to thrust a tiny capsule into "slot" in the sky, send it hurtling through 22 orbits of the globe and then bring it splashing down to the sea within a few miles of its target ship.

Cooper's calm expertness, his sense of mastery over the curious vehicle that carried him, gave a richly human touch to his unique adventure—far and away the longest space flight of any American.

If comparison must be drawn, he did not, of course, match the 64 orbits and the 48 orbits of the two Russians who soared aloft last August. But the difference has to do with Russia's superior rocket thrust. In the quality of our space flight, we are at least equal before the world.

And it is no small triumph that we have now managed six consecutive successful space flights in six tries. The Russians have mounted just four, even though they hold the orbital record. Moreover, strong rumor has it that they have suffered at least a few failures, with disastrous consequences for their pilots.

This nation having done so well, we cannot now break off and bury ourselves in our laboratories for a long hibernation. We must program more visible ventures soon, to impart to our explorations the competitive drive they need in a great competitive struggle.

Free world security is bound up in this race with Russia to master space and reach the moon and the planets. But there is more.

Space is one great frontier of the human spirit today. If free men are right in saying freedom gives the human spirit its fullest rein, how can we dare be second in the adventuring at that frontier?

To fail thus might be to fail in the supreme tests of will on earth between freedom and tyranny. Gordon Cooper has acted for us all in a remarkable flight which says that must not happen.

In 1947 only 3 per cent of all families and single individuals in the country had incomes up to $15,000 a year. Twelve per cent are in that group now and have half as much spending power.

THE ART OF MAKING A COALITION

When the Republicans finally face up to the task of piecing together an effective coalition for 1964, to what elements of the electorate can they make their appeal?

Looking over what might be called the demographic landscape, one can catch glimpses of many promising leads. The Republicans don't need to worry very much about the wide segment of the suburban vote that is tax conscious, inflation conscious, and tired to death of strikes. They will tend to hold their own here no matter what candidate they choose. On the other hand, they cannot hope to make much of a dent in certain traditional New Deal areas. Blue-collar labor will tend to the Democratic side; so will the so-called ethnic groups, with some exceptions.

Where the Republicans can make an appeal, however, is to the increasingly numerous people who have become disillusioned with their status as part of the old Rooseveltian coalitions. One big element here is the particular classification of labor that has moved out of the blue-collar class and into the white-collar groupings. Since 1947, the year before Harry Truman's astounding second term victory, white-collar employment has risen by 50 per cent as compared to a 17 per cent rise in over-all employment. Farm and blue-collar workers have actually declined since 1947—but in fifteen years the number of white-collar workers has jumped by ten million.

What does a white-collar family earn? With the average American family's income now at $7,140 a year, according to Department of Commerce figures, it is a reasonable assumption that the white-collar people are practically all within shouting distance of the so-called "median" figure of $5,840, which is the Department of Commerce's estimate of what at least half the families in America are making.

Now $5,840 a year pays a lot of taxes one way or another. Owing to thirty years of inflation this is not an affluent figure—and those who are earning between $5,000 and $6,000 are heartily sick of being checked off every pay-day for state and federal taxes, company deductions, and social security. This is why such Kennedy gimmicks as medicare, federal aid to education, and what-not, rouse no enthusiasm among the "masses." The new white-collar working class is tired of being checked off, period. If the correct pitches are made, this class should be widely responsive to Republican promises to stabilize the check-off business right where it is, or even to try to reduce it a little.

Then there are the old people who live on fixed incomes. Many of these people are grateful for what social security they have. But they have become intensely concerned with protecting the buying power of that security. They might like medicare, but not at the expense of more inflation. One way the Republicans might appeal to the old people is to insist that the separate states make federal medicare unnecessary by really doing something about the less costly Kerr-Mills legislation, which can be invoked to cover needy cases without adding to the social security bite. Though the connection between increased social security check-offs and inflation may seem obscure at first blush, the fact is that every time take-home pay is lessened it increases the pressure for higher over-all wages, which have to be financed out of a federal increase in the money supply. The old people don't stand to get their cut of new federal money, which is one reason they are now a deflationary bloc, interested in protecting the value of the money they already have.

There are many other blocs and interest groups to which the Republicans can turn for support. Item: the numerous non-extremist southerners who would like to solve the problems of race relations without being insulted with a force bill psychology in Washington. Item: the poorer farmers, who might be won by a promise of limiting support payments to wheat produced on a limited number of acres. Item: the patriots who feel disgruntled every time Fidel Castro or "Che" Guevara makes a sarcastic speech about the gutless Yankees.

The Republicans can have good hunting and when they take a tip from the Democrats, who know how to add blocs into coalitions. An election campaign between two arithmetically knowledgeable parties would be a really meaningful thing.

The Doctor's Mailbag

B-12 Plays Control Role In Pernicious Anemia

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Since I called attention recently to methysargide as a preventive for migraine headaches, I have had many letters from persons who said their doctor or pharmacist could find no reference to this drug. They undoubtedly know this drug by its trade name, "Sancert." It must, however, be avoided in pregnancy and can be obtained only with a doctor's prescription.

Q—I am 75. A few years ago I had pernicious anemia and lost a lot of weight. I have been taking injections of vitamin B-12 ever since. My blood count and weight are now back to normal and the interval between injections is longer. Will I have to continue these shots indefinitely? Could they cause any side effects, such as a rash on my ankles?

A—Since your blood count has returned to normal you are now getting what is called a maintenance dose of the vitamin. Your doctor will determine how much you need by making periodic checks of your blood count.

Since this disease can be controlled but not cured, you should continue under your doctor's care indefinitely, since the complications of pernicious anemia when inadequately treated may be crippling.

No side effects have been reported from the use of vitamin B-12. Your rash must be due to something else.

Q—What is pneumosclerosis? What causes it? Is there any cure?

A—from its formation, the word would mean hardening of the lungs. But I am unable to find it in any medical dictionary or textbook. I can only assume, therefore, that you are referring to pneumosclerosis, caused by inhalation of silica dust over a period of years.

This would indeed cause hardening of the lungs. The condition is found chiefly in persons who work as stonemasons, sandblasters, or in some similar occupations, and who do not wear some form of respirator.

The best treatment is prevention. When the disease has become established as shown by X-ray of the chest, the victim should change his occupation.

There is no cure, and further exposure to the silica dust can only aggravate the condition.

Q—What causes multiple myeloma? What can be done for it?

A—This is a disease of unknown cause, in which tumors form in the bones, especially the ribs, vertebrae, collar bone, and skull. Pain is usually severe.

When the tumor has weakened a bone sufficiently, ordinary weight-bearing may cause fracture. As the disease progresses, the victim develops anemia.

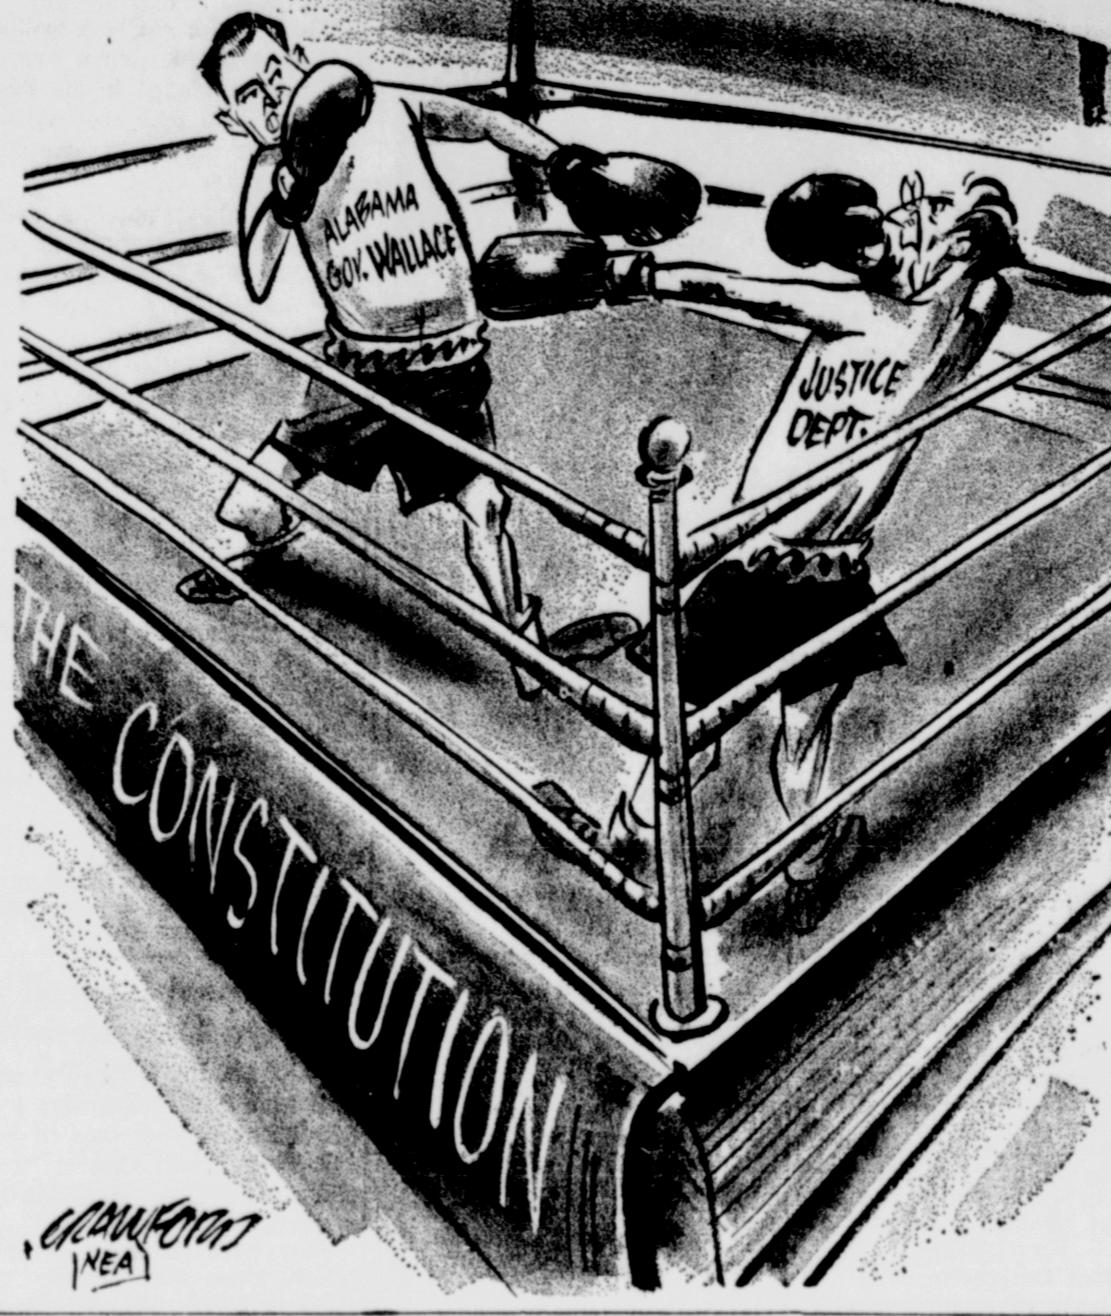

X-ray and urethane may relieve the pain and make life more comfortable, but they cannot be used to cure the disease.

Please send your questions and comments to Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

You sometimes can make a teen-ager turn over a new leaf, but getting him to turn off a light is something else again.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) —

Announcement by the Republi-

will hold a workshop in Hershey,

Pa., June 13-14 probably will start another round of political speculation, most of which will be thumb-sucking baloney.

This organization was set up formally in Washington last De-

Dwight D. Eisenhower's Gettys-

It has been accused of a lot of party-splitting and presiden-and activities—all of which are denied.

The truth is that the Republidoesn't quite know where it's go-

That's one purpose of the Hershey workshop. It will be an invitational affair for about 75 hand-picked participants. Keeping attendance small was inten-which could get a lot of work done at this first session. The drive for citizen members in large numbers will come later.

EISENHOWER AS HONOR-

on critical problems facing

A special feature of this ses-

Another workshop was to have been chaired by RCC Chair-

• BRIDGE*Bidding Rule Has Exceptions

By OSWALD JACOBY

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

One of the first things a beginner is taught is that if he holds two five card suits he should bid the higher ranking first, with the idea in mind to bid the other later. This rule should be followed irrespective of the strength of the two suits.

This is a mighty good principle, but like all other rules it has exceptions and today's South hand presents one.

If South were the opening bidder he should open one diamond. There is no question about that, but when in clubs, invariably there was discussion about how impossible it was to reach a slam with a diamond void opposite five to the jack and there was considerable surprise expressed when it was found that two pairs reached six clubs.

At both those tables South decided to bid two clubs. His idea was not to bother with the diamond suit unless his partner happened to bid it.

Needless to say, once the club response was made there was no trouble getting to the slam—in fact I am a trifle surprised that someone didn't go all the way to seven.

Back From Hospital, Gives Innocent Plea

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Donald Otis, 25, a patient at a state mental hospital for the last three years, pleaded innocent Thursday to a charge of first-degree murder in the 1959 knifing of his 18-year-old bride of one month.

Otis was returned Wednesday from Matteawan State Hospital at Beacon. He was committed to the hospital in 1960 after a sanity hearing determined he was incapable of standing trial in the death of the former Mary Eileen Brooks.

He was ordered returned for arraignment on the murder charge after the hospital notified the prosecutor's office that Otis now was able to participate in his own defense.

Broome Democratic Leader Resigns Job

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP) — The Broome County Democratic organization was jolted Thursday by the surprise resignation of County Chairman Donald F. McManus, brother of Gov. Rockefeller's press secretary.

McManus announced at the county committee's annual dinner Wednesday night that he was stepping down to devote more time to his law practice and his family. He and Mrs. McManus have three children.

He suggested that Binghamton Democratic Chairman Thomas J. Conlan would be a good successor. He said he would make Conlan his assistant until the county committee acted formally on the resignation.

McManus, 45, has held the chairmanship since 1957.

McManus' brother, Robert L., has been press secretary to the Republican governor since early 1960.

NEW YORK (AP) — Some pretty upsetting news has come out of the Old West: Adam Cartwright, the soulful, dark and rather brooding son of the Ponderosa, will take a wife sometime next season.

The marriage has been arranged on a very high level—it was announced by "Bonanza's" producer and NBC—and auditions are in progress to find just the right girl for Adam. But as a veteran viewer, I wouldn't make any bets on Adam's Eve ever reaching the altar.

In the very first place, who ever heard of a married western hero? From the days of William S. Hart and Tom Mix, these brave boys in the big hats have loved their horses, their cattle, their land, justice and underdogs. Although they could get mighty attracted to the local schoolmarm or a neighboring rancher's daughter, when the windup came, they'd sadly but bravely climb back on their faithful steeds and go riding off into the setting sun.

Two years ago, a scheme to get a steady girl and perhaps even a wife ultimately for Chuck Connors, the widower of "The Rifleman," just didn't work out. The romance was destroyed by the scriptwriters who felt their typewriters were tied down. So this season they came up with a new girl for him.

Matrimony, as a matter of fact, is stultifying for more than western heroes. Originally lawyer Lawrence Preston of "The Defenders" was supposed to have a wife, but he suddenly became a widower after they shot the pilot film.

Chamber of Commerce Wins Fight For New Parking Lot

The Chamber of Commerce has won its long and persistent battle with the town board on the subject of off street public parking in Woodstock village.

A board resolution adopted Tuesday night authorizing Supervisor Molyneaux to proceed with plans to convert the Feinberg-Cousins-Houst area into a parking lot represented a victory for the Chamber and a reversal of position by the town board.

The supervisor was authorized to secure a long term lease and proceed with the work as soon as possible. It is estimated the area will furnish parking space for about 25 cars.

A month ago the board had written off the site as not suitable for conversion to parking because of drainage field and septic tank problems. Stringent terms sought by the Houst firm for permission to use its property for an entrance was another factor cited against the original proposal.

Will Spend $2,500

But following a spirited discussion and rehashing of the whole problem of town parking, the board reversed its original stand and decided to accept the offer by the local merchants. The supervisor indicated the town would spend up to $2,500 from surplus funds on the project. He said there would be no bid or contract for the job but some firm would be hired to do the work.

The discussion on parking — the fourth in six months — came near the end of a long meeting that was delayed 46 minutes by an executive session of the board. Nearly 75 persons, one of the largest crowds in recent years, attended the meeting.

The parking debate was renewed when William E. West, president of the Chamber of Commerce, pointed out that Chamber representatives have been negotiating continuously with the board since December, 1962. But up to Tuesday night, he noted, nothing concrete had been done. He sought and received assurance that the work of converting the area would proceed as quickly as possible.

A debate on proposed revisions of a 1934 omnibus ordinance dealing with peddlers and other items saw the board split on a 4-1 vote on a three-point proposal by Supervisor Molyneaux.

Discuss Peddlers

The supervisor suggested that peddlers be required to register with the town clerk and pay a fee of $25.00. He also proposed purchase of signs indicating that unauthorized peddling and soliciting was prohibited in Woodstock.

Woodstock be placed at the entrances to the township. His third proposal suggested a thorough check on the form and content of the existing ordinance.

A motion by Councilman West that the whole matter of omnibus ordinance be referred to a thorough legal review before signs were purchased and other action taken did not receive a second. On the Molyneaux motion, Justices of the Peace Charles A. Farley and Rudi Baumgartner and Councilman Gottlob Wagner voted to sustain it. Councilman West dissented.

Law on Inspections

The board adopted a resolution re-assuring the obligation of inspecting places of public assembly as prescribed by the state labor law. The inspection will be done by the local enforcement officer.

Councilmen West and Wagner were named a committee to investigate provisions of the law prohibiting outside towns from dumping garbage and refuse in the town of Woodstock.

The board acknowledged a communication from the Oteo Central Schools District certifying the election of David Carlsen of Woodstock as a trustee on the Board of Education.

Several trailer permits were renewed and two new applications placed on file. The board also granted permission to the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen to remove a tree from its property.

In response to a query made at a previous meeting, Supervisor Molyneaux read a detailed description of the general boundaries of the three election districts in the township.

Robert Hastic, representing a group of volunteer firemen, asked for a progress report on proposed plans for a building to house a fire engine owned by the firemen but made available to the town for fire fighting duty.

Hastic recalled that Supervisor Molyneaux had promised them a building a year ago but nothing has developed. The supervisor replied that the matter had been referred to an architect and elevations were being taken for a three-stall concrete building to be built in the rear of the present fire house.

Spent $2,500 On It

It was pointed out the engine had been purchased from the fire district for $1 and the vols had spent $2,500 to refurbish it. During the past winter it was housed in part of the library collection center and it cost $308.60 for fuel to maintain a minimum temperature of 40 degrees in the building. This money was paid by the volunteers although the engine has been used in local fire fighting.

Asked if the new building would be heated, Supervisor Molyneaux replied that the possibility of heating it had not been considered up to this point. When Hastic asked what good would it be without heat, the supervisor replied that arrangements might be made to have heat piped in through a connection with the town clerk's office. He assured Hastic that work would proceed on the building in the near future.

Jaycees Announce Proposal For Park in Barclay Heights

An agreement signed Thursday afternoon by the Saugerties Jaycees will provide 14 acres of land for a park and recreation area in Barclay Heights. Ten of the 14 acres will be donated, it was announced today by Gerald Kurtz, Jaycees president.

Jack Davis of Barclay Heights Development Corp., will donate 10 of the 14 acres, when the Jaycees have purchased, at a nominal cost, the remaining four acres.

The option agreement for the tract was signed yesterday in the law offices of Napoletano, Kelly and Saccoman, 243 Wall Street.

Charles J. Saccoman represented Jack Davis in the transaction, and Michael E. Catalinotto, a member of the Jaycees committee, represented the Jaycees.

The Jaycees have been negotiating for more than a year to obtain a site recognizing that the accelerated residential construction in that area would soon use up the land available for recreational purposes.

The park, which will ultimately contain tennis courts, a ball field, picnic areas, and a children's playground, will be located on property between the Barclay Heights Development and Barclay Lane. The natural wooded surroundings will be retained to provide for a pleasant picnic atmosphere.

Once a road is completed connecting Windemere, Simmon's Park and the Barclay Heights Development, the facilities will be readily accessible from the entire Barclay Heights area. It will be possible for children to go to the park from any development on the west side of Route 9W without crossing a major highway.

Now that the Jaycees have an option on the land, they will seek to create a Barclay Heights Area Recreation District. Once the district is established they will purchase four acres. Davis will donate 10 and the Jaycees will construct the park and recreation facilities doing much of the physical work themselves. When completed the property will be deeded over to the newly formed Recreation District.

The committee has been under the direction of Ray Appleby who has been assisted by George Leombruno and Catalinotto.

Hints for Happy Holidays*(3) Piloting the Freeways

Freeways and turnpikes are still an unfamiliar experience for many motorists. They're marvelously convenient and are safer than other roads if driven properly. But their very differences from regular roads—no stops or crossings, gentle grades—give the new roads a special hazard. Some call it "highway hypnosis." It's sheer boredom and fatigue, caused by monotonously driving straight ahead at a constant speed for hours on end. Some recommend tricks, like blasting the radio, sticking your head into the wind, varying speeds. But there is only one really safe rule: STOP driving at the first sign of drowsiness. And whether sleepy or not, pull into service plazas, get out and stretch occasionally.

CHECKLIST

- ✓ 1. Have car serviced before hitting freeway or turnpike.
- ✓ 2. Speed up in entrance lane. Once on freeway, keep up with the stream of traffic.
- ✓ 3. Take all the room you need to pass. Signal intention to pass and return to righthand lane.
- ✓ 4. Never stop on freeway. In emergency, pull well onto shoulder. Never back up.
- ✓ 5. Stay two (TWO, not one) car lengths behind the car ahead for every 10 m.p.h. of speed.
- ✓ 6. STOP driving, pull off and rest if you become tired sleepy.

Kurz, Fired SLA Man in Putnam, Sues Owner, Wife

CARMEL, N. Y. (AP) — George Kurz, former executive secretary of the Putnam County Alcoholic Beverage Control Board, has served notice of a $250,000 damage suit against a tavern owner and his wife. He says accusations they made cost him his job and damaged his reputation.

Notices of the pending state Supreme Court action were served Thursday on Anthony Mancini and his wife, who own the Village Barn in Mahopac.

Kurz was indicted on three counts of taking $2,000 in illegal fees to suppress a charge against Mancini of serving a minor at the Village Barn. County Judge Fred A. Dickinson dismissed these charges, but he let stand a fourth count of perjury.

The perjury count alleged that Kurz lied when he denied receiving a fee for introducing Mancini and a woman from whom he bought another tavern, the Putnam Lake Inn. A jury deadlocked over the perjury charge last Friday and was dismissed.

Greek Monasteries Are Celebrating 1000th Birthday

By PHILIP DOPOLOS
MT. ATHOS, Greece (AP)—This is a rare year in the 10-century history of the rugged Mt. Athos Peninsula and its monks who want nothing of worldly life.

The Orthodox monasteries are marking their 1,000th birthday and hoping that their community—despite a dwindling population—will go on forever.

About 250 guests, all men, will gather here next month for religious services and other observances of the anniversary.

The visitors will find that 10 centuries have changed little on the Macedonian Peninsula, a six-mile-wide strip of land jutting 30 miles into the Aegean Sea.

It remains largely a community of monks living in scattered monasteries or as hermits in isolated caves and huts.

Footpaths wind through forests, linking the monasteries and the peninsula's few villages. There isn't an automobile around.

Visitors from the outside must get passes from Greek officials and have them approved on Mt. Athos by the monks' own government, consisting of an elected representative from each monastery.

Women are never permitted. Even female domestic animals—cows, hens, mares—are barred. The only exception was Queen Helen of Serbia in the 13th century. The monks admitted her because she had been one of their greatest benefactors.

Legend says she entered a Mt. Athos church to pray and a voice from an icon said: "Begone; this is no place for a woman." The peninsula has been off

Report Is Made On Camp Area Of Jewish Center

Under the chairmanship of Samuel Berger, the Jewish Community Center Recreation Area committee held a progress report meeting earlier this week. Meeting at the administration building at the recreation area on Old Hurley Mountain, the committee heard a report from Executive Director Robert Kurland on preparation of the grounds for the summer season. Kurland reported that the pavilion had been completely painted and that all picnic benches also had been painted. The swimming pool was in process of being painted and that repairs had been completed to the porch of the administration building. In addition, he said that the baseball field backstop had been repaired and painted, and that all folding chairs were being inspected and repaired as necessary.

Dr. Abraham Meissner submitted a report that said the tractor and grass mowers were now in operation and that grass cutting operations for the 124 acre area were currently underway. A new telephone line to the pavilion for the convenience of adults using the area is in the process of being installed at this time and all service areas are being given a "spring cleaning."

During the meeting, the committee authorized the construction of ten new picnic tables, a new fence at the parking lot, and a new submerged water pump for irrigation. In addition, Mrs. Madeline Wendorf was appointed sub-committee chairman to obtain additional outdoor lounge furniture for the patio area.

BABSON on BUSINESS

By ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON DISCUSSES LOOKING AHEAD FIFTY YEARS

BABSON PARK, Mass., May 24—I am thinking today of the changes which have taken place in merely one area of activity since I was a boy, — namely, transportation.

Starting With Oxen

My grandfather cut cord wood and hauled it into Gloucester on an ox sled. I felt very smart when I could drive the oxen, guiding them with a stick. This was my first experience in transportation.

My father later started a dry goods store and had a couple of horses to get goods to his customers. Often he took me on these short trips and I learned to drive horses. Ultimately I drove them in races on the ice. This was my second lesson in transportation.

Finally, when I got married, I bought a new automobile which Henry Ford was just putting on the market for $398 cash. I later knew Mr. Ford very well; and he told me it took him ten years to raise $100,000 to start the Ford Motor Company in 1903. Later he had me as his guest when he manufactured his fifteen-millionth automobile. He surely was a wonderful man and remade America.

During more recent years I traveled continually in the trains with steam locomotives that are now curiosities. My trip tomorrow will be from Orlando, Florida, to Boston in four hours by jet, compared with the day and a half it used to take me by train. Or, I am able to cross the ocean in a few hours by jet, against a few days by boat.

Reduction of Travel

Gradually, travel will decline as our imagination is developed. In fact, as the population increases, this will be necessary. Experiments are now being made in connection with Christian telepathy, etc., which should be encouraged. We will soon be content to imagine the places and persons we want to visit or talk with. This will be commonplace 50 years from now. Our imagination will become stronger, aided by TV and photography, and we will travel less but use the telephone much more.

Clothing — And Eyesight

We know the billions of radio waves which are in the air and in the rooms where this column is being read. Yet our clothing partly insulates them from our bodies. Perhaps our clothing should contain minute wires serving as millions of "antennas." This might free us from ailments such as arthritis, weak heart, and blood troubles. Many of our physical illnesses may be due to lack of radio waves.

Another field in which I believe great developments will take place is the use of magnifying glasses. I am having one made now three feet in diameter.

Our eyes are a wonderful possession, and something really revolutionary could be developed in the way of magnification to help ease the strain which all of us place on our overworked eyes.

As I have said in previous columns, however, the greatest changes will come about through some form of television. Before long, TV will give out sunshine and also transmit sunshine. By pressing a button we will be able to get heat, or light, or air conditioning via television.

The Power of the Brain

Psychologists tell me that the brain is used at only about 5% of its capacity. Many reading this column will live to see our educational system entirely reorganized. Young people will be trained to think and reason. We may not need to pay thousands of dollars for a data-processing machine when each of us carries in his head a machine superior in efficiency and power. Professor George R. Harrison, Dean of the School of Science at MIT in Cambridge, Mass., has written a book which every educator should read. If I, during my lifetime, have advanced from driving an ox team to riding a jet plane, is it not reasonable that those who are young today will see similar progress?

Chemists tell me that great changes will take place in the food we eat. It will become more tasteful, more digestible, more healthful, and free from any poisons. It will be illegal to use certain insecticides. One biologist even claims that soup manufacturers may collect and can insects instead of killing them. These are just a few of the thoughts which come to my mind as I look ahead fifty years; either the insects will eat our food up, or we must "wake up" and eat them up first!

Footwear Company
To Pay $1 Dividend

EDMONTON, N. Y. (AP) — The Endicott Johnson Corp., one of the nation's largest makers of footwear, will pay a quarterly dividend of $1 a share July 1 to preferred stockholders of record as of June 18.

The dividend will be the fourth in a row to be paid by the company, which is still working to shake off the effects of a financial crisis that began four years ago. It reached a climax in 1960 when the company lost $12,215,-

Although it will pay a dividend July 1 on preferred shares, the company will remain $2-a-share in arrears to preferred stockholders. Meantime, E-J will have passed 11 common stock dividends.

The company has 27,380 shares of preferred cumulative stock outstanding. It must pay what it owes to these stockholders before it can again declare common stock dividends.

The July 1 dividend was announced Wednesday.

Endicott Johnson is the largest single employer in the area of the Triple Cities — Binghamton, Endicott and Johnson City.

The company, whose work force is estimated at between 11,000 and 12,000, has made gradual layoffs over the last two years.

The layoffs were viewed as part of the company's effort to strengthen its financial standing.

A graduate of Muhlenberg College, Allentown, Pennsylvania and the Lutheran Theological Seminary in Philadelphia, the Rev. Mr. Jensen is president of the Erie (Pennsylvania) council of churches, a member of the Board of Directors of the Erie County Health and Tuberculosis Association.

The Rev. Mr. Jensen, who has served parishes in Buffalo, N. Y. and Kitchener, Ontario, as well as his present post in Erie, and who has written extensive lesson material for the Lutheran Church's Board of Parish Education, will be accompanied to Kingston by his wife.

They will be present for the afternoon reception for Dr. and Mrs. Gaise, who are also celebrating the 25th anniversary of their marriage.

To Preach Sunday At Rev. Dr. Gaise's 25th Anniversary

REV. F. L. JENSEN

The Rev. Franklin L. Jensen, pastor of Luther Memorial Church, Erie, Pa., will preach the sermon at the service commemorating the 25th anniversary of the ordination of the Rev. David C. Gaise, D. D., at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Wurts and Rogers streets, Sunday morning at 10:45.

The Rev. Mr. Jensen, long-time friend and associate of Dr. Gaise in the work of the Lutheran Church and fellow student in the graduate program at the Lutheran Theological Seminary at Maywood, Illinois, began his ministry in the early forties by organizing Faith Lutheran Church in Schenectady where he served until 1949.

A member of the Board of Social Ministry of the Lutheran Church in America, he is chairman of its Department of Social Missions. While in Schenectady, Pastor Jensen conducted a daily devotional period on WGY for the Council of Churches for a number of years and has been chairman of the radio and TV committee of the Buffalo, (New York) and Erie County (Pennsylvania) councils of churches.

The company has 27,380 shares of preferred cumulative stock outstanding. It must pay what it owes to these stockholders before it can again declare common stock dividends.

President Named Father of Year; 10 Others Chosen

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy was chosen Thursday as National Father of the Year for his "courageous defense and leadership" of the free world.

The national Father's Day Committee called the President a human champion "of the rights and dignity of the individual over all of the globe."

Noting that President and Mrs. Kennedy now have two children and are expecting third in August, the committee said:

"Large families are a tradition with the Kennedys and it would seem that the President has no intention of breaking with this tradition."

The award, along with nine others, was announced at the 53rd anniversary observance of Father's Day, which falls on June 16th this year.

The committee, a noncommercial organization, was formed in 1937 to further the ideals of fatherhood.

Others named were:

Television Father of the Year—Chet Huntley of the National Broadcasting Co.

Screen Award—Henry Fonda.

Radio Father of the Year—Don McNeill, who for three decades has conducted his "Breakfast Club" radio program.

Stage Father of the Year—Paul Ford.

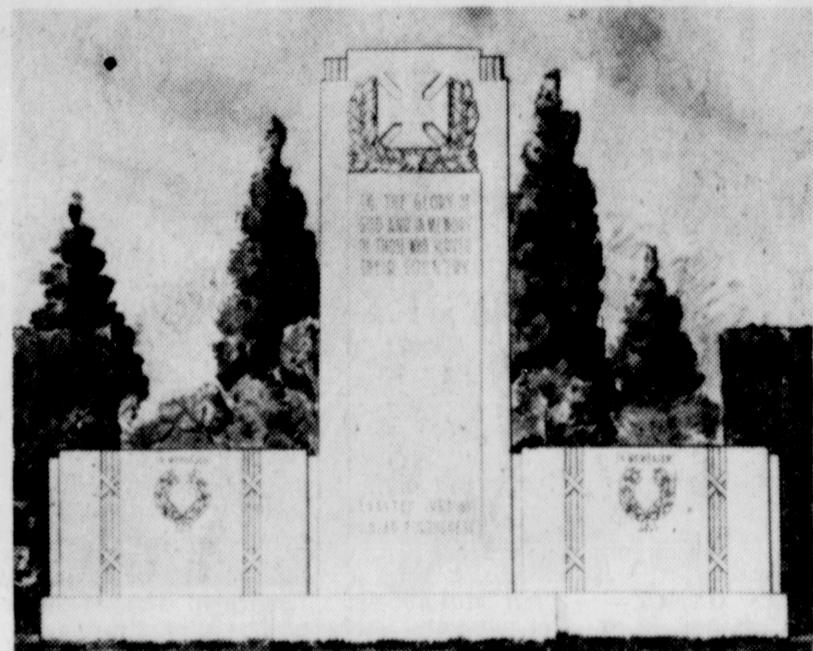

Sports Father of the Year—Tom Tresh of the New York Yankees.

Humanitarian Father of the Year—Danny Thomas, entertainer and TV star.

Grandfather of the Year—Rube Goldberg, because "he is the dean of American cartoonists and because this year he has reached the age of four score."

Woman of the Year—Pauline Frederick, United Nations correspondent for NBC-TV.

Husband and Wife Team of the Year—Gordon and Sheila McRae.

AWARDED WAR MEMORIAL CONTRACT—Byrne Monuments, Route 28 have been awarded the contract to erect a war memorial in Naugatuck, Conn. Other noted monuments by the local firm include those of President F. D. Roosevelt at Hyde Park, The Lexington and Pine Hill War Memorials and the Rev. Dr. F. B. Seeley church yard memorial in this city. The Byrne Monument concern originally was established by Matthew, James P. and William B. Byrne in 1900 at Broadway and Henry Street. This site now is occupied by the Rondout National Bank. The business continued by James P. Byrne was removed to its present location in 1952.

Rage of Nation*Folk Music Is Strictly Bigtime

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The fastest growing segment of the entertainment industry is something that has been around since pre-revolutionary days—folk music.

Folk records sell in the millions. Folk festivals are popping up all over the country. Folk musicians have moved out of the coffee houses and into the bigtime. Every college campus has its crews of guitar and banjo-thumping folksters, eternally hopeful of being tomorrow's Kingston Trio or Peter, Paul and Mary.

Why and Wherefore

A high priest of the folk movement is Edwin Pearl, and from him I learned more about the whys and wherefores.

He operates the local Ash Grove which has spawned Bud and Travis, The Limeighters and many another top act. It is, says Pearl, the only night club in the country that regularly presents pure folk music.

By pure he means that the music is the real McCoy, with no help from tin pan alley, and the instruments are never, never, amplified. (Nothing seems to appall a true folk lover like an electric guitar.)

Pearl has scoured the hills of North Carolina, Kentucky and other regions for authentic musicians, importing some to Los Angeles virtually barefoot.

The 30-year-old native Angelino explained that he has been running the Ash Grove for five years, and there were times when the operation was touch and go. Late it has been all go. He admitted that the Kingston Trio was the prime force in selling folk music to the masses, though all purists he disapproves of their commercial style.

The reason for the upsurge of folk?

Pearl offered this theory: "The appreciation of ethnic origins usually skins two or three generations. I believe we're going through a reaction to the trend started after the First World War—the movement to the cities.

"People who left the farms and hills had no great interest in the native music of the areas they came from. But after a few decades of city life, there is an urge to return to the simple, unspoiled elements of life in a less complicated era."

Syracuse Man Gets 5-10 for Stabbing

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Charles Houston, 42, of Syracuse, was under sentence today to serve a term of 5 to 10 years in Attica State Prison for the fatal stabbing of another man during a dice game last September.

Houston was sentenced Thursday in Onondaga County Court by Judge Donald H. Mead.

Houston pleaded guilty April 26 to a charge of second-degree manslaughter in the stabbing of Hubert Lee Anderson, 40, also of Syracuse. A grand jury had indicted Houston on a charge of first-degree manslaughter.

Police quoted witnesses as saying that the men, both Negroes, had argued over money in a Syracuse apartment.

Today's Business Mirror*More Savings, Bank Competition Are Helping Pep Up Many FieldsBY SAM DAWSON
AP BUSINESS NEWS ANALYST

NEW YORK (AP) — Mounting savings of American citizens are keeping credit easy. And the results are beginning to spill over into many fields:

Easier terms for some borrowers, such as auto and home buyers and corporate treasurers; isolated declines in the dividends paid by savings and loan associations; a competitive rush to buy available mortgages; and reduced pressure on the U.S. Treasury as it strives to live under its debt ceiling.

The easier credit terms also have aided the pickup in sales of big ticket items to consumers and hence play a part in the better than expected growth in the economy this spring. And the surplus of available funds for mortgages helps home builders raise their sights.

Savings began pouring into lending institutions about 18 months ago when they raised their interest payments. The trend was speeded up when the stock market crashed a year ago frightened many small investors.

To pay higher interest on much larger savings accounts the banks began competing with the savings and loan groups for mortgages, which yield more than do government or corporate bonds.

This competition has kept the mortgage market easy. Rates still vary between 5 and 6 per cent, but of late have tended toward the lower end of the range.

And the buying up of mortgages from federal agencies—chiefly the Federal National Mortgage Association—has given them more cash and hence less need to borrow from the hard-pressed U.S. Treasury. This has helped it ward off bumping the debt ceiling while Congress decides whether to lift it, and if so how high.

Their Views

In recent days a few savings and loan associations—in Arizona, Alabama, and elsewhere—have lowered the relatively high dividends they pay savers. Some think the movement will spread, as these institutions adjust to lower returns from the mortgages they finance. Others believe the demand for mortgages is due to pick up, and interest rates on them to harden, so that the dividends to savers can be maintained.

Also, in recent weeks the rate of personal saving has dropped bit, as consumers have stepped up buying of big ticket items. So the accumulation of lendable funds may slacken.

But in addition to new savings, the money market is replenished by a huge volume of repayments on outstanding mortgages, and on a record total of instalment debt, distribution in the Syracuse area.

Permission Given For New Gas Lines

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The Public Service Commission today authorized the New York State Natural Gas Corp. to replace 18.25 miles of 31-year old pipeline in Cortland and Onondaga counties with stronger mains.

The project will add new mains to the 17 miles of pipeline put down last year. It will link the town of Homer, Cortland County, to the Town of Otisco, Onondaga County, where gas is delivered to Niagara Mohawk Power Corp. for distribution in the Syracuse area.

Miss McGarry, who will graduate from the University of the State of New York at Cobleskill in June with a major in Nursery School education will assume her duties in September when the Nursery School will resume sessions in its new quarters at 96 Maiden Lane.

REIMBURSING A FRIEND

Q: A friend recently testified in my behalf in an accident that was fought in court. It was necessary for him to take the day off in order to appear. He was docked a day's wages. Would it be proper to reimburse him for his lost wages, or might he consider this an insult?

A: Even though he probably will refuse because of his friendship for you, I think you should at least offer to reimburse him for his lost wages.

A Seating Problem

Q: I am going to marry my sister's husband's brother shortly and the problem has arisen as to which side of the church she and my brother-in-law should be seated—the bride's side or the groom's side, or does my sister sit with our family and her husband with his family?

A: Your sister and her husband must sit together, but whether they sit on the bride's side or the groom's side of the church would be determined by the size of the families. In other words, if the bridegroom's family is small and the bride's family large, they would sit on the bridegroom's side to somewhat balance the families. If both sides are about even, they would sit on the bride's side of the church.

Acknowledging Greeting Cards

Q: My mother insists that every time I receive a greeting card of any kind, I sit right down and send a note of thanks. I not only think this unnecessary but a little ridiculous. What is your opinion?

A: Greeting cards do not require an acknowledgement further than thanking the senders verbally if you should happen to see them and by sending cards in return when the occasion arises.

Teachers of Religion To Attend Workshop; Slated for Saturday

The Rt. Rev. Monsignor Charles M. Walsh, director of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine in the Archdiocese of New York has issued an invitation to all teachers of religion in the parishes of Ulster County to attend a special workshop on Saturday, May 25, from 10:30 a. m. to 1 p. m. at St. Ursula's Academy, this city.

Topics to be presented are (1) Problems of Teaching Religion by Michael J. Canosa of St. James, Milton. (2) Some Answers to these problems by Sister Mary Virginia of St. Mary and St. Andrew in Ellenville and (3) Teaching Christ Through With the Holy Spirit by Rev. Edward Soares, New York.

The Rev. Edward L. Farrelly of St. Mary's will be moderator.

This program has been arranged by Monsignor Walsh in order to afford teachers of religion an opportunity to come together for a look at their common problems. The value of the ideas presented will be discussed in small groups with teachers of similar grades.

Father Edward Soares, assistant director of the Confraternity, feels that the presence of experienced teachers at the workshop will provide valuable insights for the newer and less experienced teachers. "It is hoped that all who attend may receive some guidance and direction toward the realization of their goals. The principal goal as expressed in the manual of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine is to guide the children and youth to grow in the knowledge and love of God and in the love of their fellow man. Through this program the strengthening of the spiritual ideals vital in our democratic society receive major emphasis," Father Soares says.

An invitation is extended by Monsignor Walsh to all interested people in the area to attend the workshop. With an expanding school population there is a growing need for more lay teachers to assist in the program. How to prepare for this work will be one of the features of the program.

Assisting Monsignor Walsh in making arrangements are the parish priests and teaching nuns in the various instruction centers of the county. In addition several lay members have volunteered their services as members of the publicity committee. They are:

Mrs. Philip McDonald, Mrs. Leo Notari, Robert Cloonan of St. Joseph's; Mrs. William Whitney of St. Mary's, Kingston; Miss Roma J. O'Brien of St. Colman's East Kingston; Mrs. John E. McGregor, Carl J. Kaminski of St. Catherine Labouré, Lake Katrine; Mrs. Joseph Canosa of St. James, Milton; Mrs. Ben Gilberti of St. Mary's Marlboro; Mrs. John F. Duffy of St. John Evangelist of Clove.

Stylish Layer Look Hits Fashion World; Capes Still Popular

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — By next fall getting dressed may take women longer than ever, and impatient men must come to realize that this is because the layer look will be in style.

Even the models at George Carmel's preview of his fall and winter collection were slower than usual, since changes involve slipping one costume over another.

Actually, those clever Chinese originated the idea; and for years designer Bonnie Cashin espoused it in this country for sportswear. Strip teasers have always used the trick in reverse.

But the layer look as advocated by the Carmel models consists of chic, French-accented couture in two or three-piece suits enveloped by two-piece coats, jackets or capes.

Models will include the Mmes. John Alley, Arthur Carr 3rd, Fred Carr, Arthur Hazenbush, William Hobbs, Elbert MacFadden, Stephen McGrath, Roy Wulff and Miss Donna Leventhal. Mrs. John Roberts will be organist.

Reservations should be made by Saturday with Mrs. Harry R. LeFever Jr., or Mrs. James Elder.

Fellowship Guild at First Presbyterian Church

The Fellowship Guild of First Presbyterian Church will hold its last meeting of the season on June 13 at the home of Mrs. Walter Dunham, 76 Wilson Avenue.

The program will include a covered dish supper and auction.

Welcome Wagon Club Officers Elected; Activities Noted Here

The monthly business meeting of the Welcome Wagon Club of Kingston was held on Tuesday, May 21, at the YWCA, 209 Clinton Avenue.

Guest for the evening was Louise Wallace, cosmetologist, who demonstrated hair tinting and discussed proper hair care. Assisted by Barbara Read, Mrs. Wallace selected three models from the club membership. Mrs. James E. Powers, Mrs. James H. Fisher and Mrs. John H. Decker, on whom she demonstrated the latest methods of highlighting hair tones. Mrs. Price B. Lodge served as model for make-up techniques. The club also enjoyed a lively discussion period concerning the many varied facets of beauty care.

At the conclusion of the program, Mrs. Edward J. Prael, acting chairman conducted a brief business meeting. It was announced that the next and final session for the current year will be a family picnic to be held at Forsyth Park on Saturday, June 15, at 3 p.m. A pavilion and the baseball diamond have been reserved for the day. Each family is to bring their own food and utensils. Tentative plans are being made to start the fall program with a covered dish supper.

Mrs. Charles A. Selzo, Welcome Wagon hostess, was introduced, and the group was informed she had recently won an award for having acquired the largest number of new sponsors. The proposed slate of officers was read by Mrs. Selzo: as there were no further nominations from the floor, the nominations were accepted as elected by the casting of one vote. Those serving for the year 1963-64 are Mrs. Edward J. Prael, president; Mrs. James E. Powers, vice president; and Mrs. Thomas W. Mulrooney, Jr., secretary. Committee chairmen are Mrs. Dowd S. Meyers, membership; Mrs. Wayne S. Catlett, ways and means; Mrs. Paul C. Hallett, hospitality; Mrs. James E. Patrick, service; Mrs. J. Robert Casavant, finance, and Mrs. C. Bernarduckleschel Jr., publicity. Mrs. John H. Decker and Mrs. Gerald R. Yandie will serve on the publicity committee for the forthcoming year. Assisting Mrs. Meyers on the membership committee are Mrs. Dale Lake, Mrs. Charles Slate, and Mrs. Carl E. Reish; Mrs. Walter Gilbert and Mrs. Bernard Schwab are the members of Mrs. Hallett's hospitality committee, and Mrs. Richard Morgan is serving with Mrs. Patrick as service committee member.

Individual interest groups are presently being formed. The arts and crafts group will meet on Wednesday, May 29 at 8 p.m., at the home of Mrs. John M. Valentine, Zandhoek Road, Hurley. A sewing group and a bowling team are being considered for formation in the fall.

Mrs. Selzo announced that procedures for joining the Welcome Wagon International Federation will be postponed for the present.

At the conclusion of the business meeting, a social hour was held. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Paul C. Hallett and Mrs. James E. Patrick.

Fair Street School Registration Set For Monday, Tuesday

Registration for the fall term at the Fair Street Nursery School will be held Monday and Tuesday at the school, 209 Fair Street, between the hours of 9:11:30 a.m. and in the afternoon between the hours of 1 and 3:30. At that time the school holds open house for prospective parents who may wish to visit with their children for the purpose of meeting the teachers and becoming acquainted with the facilities.

The school holds four classes daily for three and four year old children in the new modern Educational Building of the Fair Street Reformed Church. There is an adjoining, fenced-in play yard on two levels.

Fair Street Nursery School is a non-sectarian, non-profit, co-operative, pre-kindergarten. The school was founded in 1949 on the premise that what a child experiences between the ages of three and five has more influence on him as a person than any later education. Licensed and accredited by the New York State Education Department, the only nursery school in the Kingston area with this distinction, Fair Street Nursery School notes that some 950 children who have attended the school during its 14 years have gone on to elementary and high school having made a satisfactory adjustment to group living.

A large registration is expected for the coming year and an early registration is an assurance of a place in one of the classes in the fall.

Reaction Varies to Sugar Price; 14 Hikes in 1963

By DARDEN CHAMBLISS
AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Soaring sugar prices have made some people mad, others worried and others just-jawed stubborn.

Some others, however, don't seem to care or, a Los Angeles grocer suspects, haven't noticed that prices have risen 14 times this year.

A San Antonio, Tex., sugar broker, Eddie Gittinger, is among those whose dander is up. He thinks the big problem is hoarding by industrial users. Refiners should start rationing, he suggests.

Cool to Speculators

"I would like to see this thing ended suddenly and leave the speculators holding the bag," he says.

A woman who operates a corner ice cream shop in suburban New York would like to see it ended suddenly too. She buys her sugar retail, and moaned when she saw what had happened to the five-pound bag that had cost 53 cents last fall.

"I don't know what I'm going to do," she said Thursday. "I can't pay 70 cents and still make a profit."

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Setting of a trial date for James R. Moore, 28, accused of fatally assaulting and choking 14-year-old Pamela Moss, was delayed Thursday to June 24.

Monroe County Judge John P. Lomenzo indicated the trial date probably will be sometime in July or August.

Moore is under indictment on a charge of first-degree murder. He is charged with waylaying Pamela Moss along a woodland trail near her home in suburban Penfield last September.

DO YOU REMEMBER

BY SOPHIE MILLER

I just wonder if there is a book on the wild flowers of Ulster County. I never saw one. I have a book called "Nature's Garden" by Neltje Blanchan" covering wild flowers and their insect visitors, published in 1901 by Doubleday, Page and Co. in New York. I bought it at a library fair once, and I think it is autographed.

Those who have a little or big piece of land no doubt are carefully looking at the packaged bargains of bushes, trees, bulbs and flowers in many of the stores. I do the same, and sometimes I am astounded at the results, because I go by a hit and miss system. I have bought rose bushes in packages, and have had no luck, and then one suddenly decides, "Yes, I'll grow." I have planted bulbs and green leaves have come up and no flowers, or some crocus have showed up, and then one night of frost, and that is the end of them. This year I tried tulips, by planting bulbs last fall. I just dig a hole and put the onion in it, and then wonder, "I hope I did not plant it upside-down." The Holland red tulips did fine, but I guess all over Kingston we have such a short summer around here and cold nights, so it seems to me.

There are many interesting items, pictures, and information in this some 400 page book. Emerson for instance is quoted as saying, "A weed is a plant whose virtues we have not yet discovered." They do say that weeds having flowers are important to pollination, and help bring bees, butterflies and other insects to your garden. Harry L. Edison used to say, you can't have tomatoes without them in your garden.

I see I have spear mint growing and yet I looked under "mint" and they do not mention it. Books are like that. If I am looking for something, either the picture or information is not in the book on my shelf. I have heard that some folks use spear mint leaves in tea, fish and other foods. I do not like it particularly and how it came in my garden I do not know. They mention a Bog Wintergreen with magenta pink flowers which flower in June around here. It is said, that colonists brought over many of their favorite seeds, bulbs and planted here. I wonder if there is a book on them.

To those who mow their lawn the minute they see the golden common dandelion, let me say, that this book devotes some four pages to this flower of the chicory family, sometimes called the lion's-tooth. The common dandelion grows all over the world, and flowers continually. It is said, it originally came from Europe and Asia and can float across the ocean, or along the coast and still live. Personally I like the flower, and enjoy seeing it along roadsides. On sunny days it opens up its bushy golden head, and in the cool of the evening it closes up as though it weren't there. It's part of our Ulster County beautiful wild flowers.

Years ago, when the Europeans were coming over before they had been chased from their native countryside they knew about these wild plants and flowers and would pick them in the proper season, for home use and food. Nowadays you seldom see anyone walking along the road ways with a little knife and bag looking for various plants. That is a thing of the past. I am afraid the knowledge is lost. Today what we eat comes 'cello wrapped, frozen or in a can. We dare not pick food from the woods and fields for we do not know what is fit to eat.

Asks Cut in Price
Of Milk for Farms

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Frank Horton, R-N.Y., has called for a reduction in the price of milk produced in the northeast for the manufacture of butter and cheese.

Horton said Thursday last year's action lifting the price of manufacturing milk closed many of its markets.

The Rochester Republican commented in a statement sent to an Agriculture Department hearing in New York City which is considering proposed amendments to 10 marketing orders in the northeast.

A lower price for milk used in the production of butter and cheese, he said, would assure the sale of this milk and eliminate surpluses.

AFL Slates 16

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Sixteen night games and 40 daytime affairs are on the schedule of the American Football League with Kansas City, a new member via moving the Dallas franchise, having the honor of launching the campaign.

The transplanted Kansas City club will meet Denver at Denver Sept. 6 in a night game that gets the race under way.

Kansas City also plays Denver in the Thanksgiving Day feature and will clash with the New York Jets Saturday, Dec. 14, in a nationally-televisioned game from Kansas City.

Finger Lakes Track to Open Next Tuesday

CANANDAIGUA, N.Y. (AP)—Finger Lakes Race Track, a $1.9 million loser last year, opens its second season of racing Tuesday with high hopes.

The main reason: a new state law that gives Finger Lakes a bigger share of the pari-mutuel pool.

In addition, the upstate track has more than 350 horses on hand, with more expected by weekend.

Lack of horses and poor crowds last year cut the new track's scheduled 100-meeting to 75. This year Finger Lakes plans 97 days of racing, closing on four Mondays in June, and Sundays.

The 7,000-seat track has made a few changes in hopes of improving the turnout. Post time has been moved up to 2 p.m., and the time between races cut to 27 minutes.

Finger Lakes also said it expects to pay about $1 million in purses, compared with $953,000 last year. The minimum for each race is $1,000.

Gov. Rockefeller last month signed a law setting up a sliding scale under which Finger Lakes and the state will share the 15 per cent state tax on betting. Under the scale, the track will retain 10 per cent and the state will keep 5 per cent of the handle up to $175,000. The state will take an increasing share on larger betting pools.

Harness tracks have a similar arrangement.

Last year the state took 9 per cent and Finger Lakes 6 per cent of the pool. The track said this was a major reason why it finished almost $2 million in the red in its first season.

Finger Lakes paid the state $1,435,075 in 1962 pari-mutuel taxes and about $100,000 in admission taxes.

Nicklaus Ace Helps Him Tie In Memphis Golf

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—With rising temperatures promising to aid scores, a breakup was expected today in the log jam at the head of the $50,000 Memphis Open golf tournament.

Eight pros took the first round lead Thursday with three under par 67s over the 6,501-yard, par 34-36-70 Colonial Country Club course.

Jack Nicklaus, the tour's leading money winner, put on the best show among early leaders with a hole-in-one on the short, par three third hole.

Bunched in the lead with Nicklaus were Jerry Edwards of Fort Worth, Buster Cupit of Fort Smith, Ark.; Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Dick Mayer of Palm Desert, Calif., Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, Johnny Pott of Gulf Hills, Miss., and Tony Lema of San Leandro, Calif.

In close pursuit at 68 were Jack McGowan of Largo, Fla., Dave Hill of Jackson, Mich., Miller Barber of San Antonio, Don Sikes of Jacksonville, Fla., George Knudson of Toronto, and Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N.Y.

The ace, Nicklaus' first as a pro and the fifth in his career, came on a sharp six iron wrap down the 185-yard third hole. The ball hit a bank at the right of the green, took a hard kick left and lammed the pin.

Unlapped Grip

The unlapped grip, often erroneously referred to as the baseball grip, is used by only two top professionals that I can think of offhand, Art Wall and Bob Rosburg wouldn't use any other.

It is the basic grip, with the right little finger resting on the club instead of being otherwise deployed, just touching the index finger of the left hand.

Rosburg believes this grip is especially good for golfers with small or weak hands, while I prefer the interlocking for those so equipped.

Regardless of which of the three standard variations you adopt, remember that the grip is your sole contact, through the club, with the ball. It must give you a tightly controlled relationship between the hands and the club. Regain control of the club.

The other fingers play smaller roles, especially the little fingers which play almost no part in the proper grip.

Rookie Opener

The Atoms and Missiles will open the Newburgh Rookie League Sunday, May 26, at 2 p.m. at Recreation Park in the Hill City. The opener will mark the fourth season of play for the Newburgh Rookie League that started in 1960 with four teams. A fifth team was added in 1961 and this year the league will operate with six teams.

Papers Play Up Fidel

MOSCOW (AP) — Almost all Moscow newspapers were given over to Fidel Castro today.

"The Soviet Union stands forever with fraternal Cuba," said the headline across the top of the Communist party newspaper, Pravda.

with his arm upraised by Premier Khrushchev. The text of speeches delivered Thursday by the two to a huge Moscow rally appeared in most papers, although Khrushchev's occupied more space.
